

Benton, Mono Co. Cal. 2/13/18

My dear Mr. Johnston:

My field books are not now accessible but I shall give you as exactly as possible the stations for Crassulaceae as soon as I get back to Berkeley - sometime in March.

Dudleya Hallii came - as I remember it - from slopes at the south base of Box Spring Mt. - or rather the S.E. base, near or on the Saunders ranch. It is probably the same as on Rubidoux. D. ovatifolia was gathered in a cañon between Calabasas and a point W. of S. Monica. I was driving but think that the road is passable for auto.

D. pumila I do not recall. This is all I can say until I see my field notes.

It will be a splendid piece of work to try out these species in your garden and test the constancy of their characters, especially if you can also secure their next of kin for comparison.

Very sincerely yours
H M Hall
